Do outdoor TVs have a media Bay?

Most outdoor TVs have weather-tight media bays to keep the device protected as well. You can get a smart outdoor TV as well, with pre-loaded apps for popular streaming services, so all you'll need is an active Wi-Fi connection. Set it up on your back patio, front deck, boat, or even in the garage, and enjoy a private viewing oasis.

Which outdoor TV is best?

SunBrite TV leads the market with models specifically designed for full-shade, partial-sun, and full-sun environments. Samsung's Terrace series offers excellent picture quality with QLED technology and smart TV features. Sony outdoor TVs are known for their elegant design and weather resistance.

Should you buy a weatherproof TV enclosure?

Weatherproof TV enclosures can transform a standard TV into an outdoor option. These protective cases are much cheaper than buying a new outdoor TV. Outdoor TV covers offer basic protection when the TV isn't in use. However, they don't allow you to use the TV while covered.
