

What should I do if I'm having trouble identifying my key?

If you're still having trouble identifying your key, contacting the lock or car manufacturer can be extremely helpful. Provide them with any details you have about the lock or key, and they can often guide you to the right replacement.

How do I find a replacement key?

If you cannot find a key code, identifying the lock brand is the next best step. The brand name is usually stamped somewhere on the lock or key. Knowing the brand will help you narrow down the options for finding a replacement key. For example, many house keys are cut to fit specific brands like Yale or Schlage.
