

What are the advantages of a pull-out unit?

Our pull-out units have a lot of advantages for you, some of them being: The working mechanism of the pull-out rack is a simple and efficient one: the pallet pull-out needs to be placed on the crossbar of a pallet rack and, with the help of a fastening set, connected to the rack.

What is a pallet pull-out unit?

Our Pallet Pull-Out Units let your teams move pallets back and forth like drawers, even with a full load of up to 1000kg. With such efficient storage, they can free up the excessive clearance distance needed above pallets. The Pallet Pull-Out Unit saves both time and space to ensure an efficient working environment and ergonomic picking.

Should you install pull-out units in your pallet racking?

By installing pull-out units in your pallet racking, the number of pallet and picking locations can be increased, while still taking up the same space as before. What's more, shorter operation distances allow for faster and more efficient picking, while at the same time freeing up valuable floor space.

How do Logimarkt pull-out units work?

Logimarkt's pull-out units fixed on beams are designed to be placed on the crossbars of a pallet rack and secured with a fixing set to the pallet rack's rear crossbar. As a result of this procedure, pallet extractions can be retrofitted into virtually any manufacturer's racks at any time.
